Siddu likely CM

Announcement by 6 pm today

Supporters of Congress leader Siddharamaiah flash victory signs at 10 Janpath in New Delhi this morning.

Siddharamaiah

Bengaluru, May 17 (KMS & BCT)- After a four-day wait, Karnataka continues to await for the decision on its next Chief Minister with bated breath. AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge is expected to make announcement this evening.

However, according to sources, Siddharamaiah would be the CM as we went to the Press.

The two main contenders are Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) President D.K. Shivakumar and former CM and Leader of Opposition Siddharamaiah. Even as reports say that Siddharamaiah is making it to the top post according to TV and social media, there is no official confirmation till we went to press. According to the report the announcement will be made at 6 pm today.

While Siddharamaiah has most of the MLAs rallying behind him, Shivakumar has refused to negotiate on his demand. He has reportedly disagreed on splitting the tenure of the CM's post. He also refused to become Deputy Chief Minister. He has told the high command that if he is denied the CM's post, he would remain as an 'ordinary MLA' for five years.

Top Congress leadership are holding talks at the residence of party President Mallikarjun Kharge. Former party Chief Rahul Gandhi too met Kharge and held closed-door talks. Digging his heels in, Shivakumar told central leaders that Siddharamaiah, while Leader of the Opposition and while Chief Minister, had held his personal interests above that of the party's.

Several fake messages are doing the rounds on social media and prominent among them is a purported invitation from the Governor's office for the swearing-in ceremony. Sources said that the letter was fake and the Governor is authorised to send an invite only after the Congress Legislature Party (CLP) selects its leader.

With Siddharamaiah taking the lead in the CM race, his supporters were seen raising slogans outside his residence in Bengaluru. Even in Delhi, supporters of Siddharamaiah were seen flashing the victory sign while Shivakumar's supporters not ready to compromise and getting into a combative mode.

Holding posters and banners, Shivakumar's supporters have assembled in front of Kharge's and Rahul's residence, lobbying for their leader. On their part, supporters of Siddharamaiah were pouring milk on his posters in Bengaluru and Mysuru.

Rahul Gandhi's back-to-back meetings with Shivakumar and Siddharamaiah are being seen as ones that would work out an acceptable formula to both sides. Siddharamaiah is said to be the high command's choice as he has the support of majority MLAs.

But before a final announcement is made — likely to be in Bengaluru at the Congress Legislature Party meeting — the high command will have to ensure that Shivakumar is on board as he is seen as the leader who revived the Congress after defections and desertions.

Even former Congress President Sonia Gandhi spoke to Shivakumar and urged him to take up the post of Deputy Chief Minister. However, sources said that he politely declined the offer following which she asked him to continue as KPCC President. Sonia also told Shivakumar that the party values his contributions.

Meanwhile, the CM's oath ceremony is likely to take place at Bengaluru's Kanteerava Stadium tomorrow (May 18) at 5.30 pm and Police officials were seen inspecting the premises. Earlier, it was decided to hold the ceremony on the steps of Vidhana Soudha but as there is a rain forecast, the venue was shifted to Kanteerava. If the swearing-in does not take place tomorrow, it will be held on Sunday, May 21, sources added.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Good governance is not an alien concept for a country like India, as even today Ram Rajya connotes the highest achievable level of good governance. We must understand a fact that good governance is impossible without Statesmen who function according to dharma and spirituality.

Aristotle had said that 'An ideal State would be the one that has a Philosopher King.' What he, perhaps, meant was that a country which has a person of spiritual wisdom as its head, would deliver better governance.

The rationale behind this statement is that it is based on the concept that the State is a family of families. The king, being the head of the State, should consider himself as the father figure or the head of the greater family that is constituted of hundreds of thousands of families. The head of a family runs the affairs of the family with love and care. He is the provider, the sustainer, the protector, the guide, the elderly person who inspires, builds confidence, promotes the well-being of all without prejudices and discrimination and runs the day-to-day affairs wisely, safely, smoothly and to the satisfaction and betterment of all.

Bhagavad Gita says that whatever a leader does, the people will follow and whatever standards or example he sets, people in general will follow. It is therefore imperative; that leaders need to perform their duty in governing effectively for the sake of educating the people in general and lead their countrymen by being an example. This has a great implication for sustainable development as it is a must for leaders to practice what they preach.

If they have the spiritual wisdom, they will run the affairs of the country with as much love as law. They will do and act as the head or as elderly persons in a family. What will keep them close to the people is the chord of love and goodwill. They will run the whole administration from this angle and with transparency and in non-partisan ways.

In short, spiritual wisdom in our Statesmen will build up a value based, welfare and benign State where people will feel happy, fearless and worriless.

Cat runs store for 9 years without taking off

New York: A ginger cat has been working in a store for the last nine years without taking a day off.

Nine-year-old Bobo was brought into the store in Chinatown, New York, as a kitten as he had nowhere to live. He was well looked after by his new friends at the store and a lawyer, who visited the store and take Bobo to the vet and bring him food.

"Bobo's personality is calm and friendly. He's the king of the store!" she was quoted by 'Love Meow', a popular blog for cat lovers.

Bobo's main duties include sitting on a cardboard if it is dropped on the floor. He also welcomes other felines, often greeting them by rolling on his back. He loves his customers. He likes to meow at them when they come in and show them around.

Kalamandira junction pitch dark

Sir,

The busy Kalamandira junction on Hunsur Road is pitch dark and demands a high wattage lighting immediately.

It is surprising that the Deputy Commissioner (DC) whose residence is closeby has not made any effort to illuminate the road junction and make it motorist-friendly.

I request the authorities concerned to take up street-light works as early as possible and illuminate the dark junction.

Spurious fertiliser manufacturing unit busted in Metagalli

Joint Director of Agriculture Chandrashekar and team raid poultry farm opposite a burial ground

Mysuru, May 17 (GA&BS)- Officers of Agriculture Department busted a spurious fertiliser manufacturing unit at a poultry farm opposite burial ground in Metagalli here yesterday and seized several equipment and articles. The accused running the racket have gone at large.

Acting on a tip off over spurious fertiliser manufacturing unit functioning at a poultry farm, a team of Agriculture Department Officers led by Joint Director of Agriculture Chandrashekar raided the premises and unearthed the racket.

The unit was being run by K.N. Mahesh, a known offender against whom similar cases have been registered at various Police Stations in the city, Chandrashekar told Star of Mysore.

The fertiliser called Muriate of Potash was being duplicated using salt, different colours, sacks/ bags of reputed fertiliser brands and sewing machine. All these articles have been seized by Agriculture Officers during the raid and the samples of spurious fertiliser have been sent to laboratory for examination, he added.

"Our Officers regularly inspect the abandoned buildings in the outskirts to look for any illegal activities related to agriculture. During such inspection, we received an information about spurious fertiliser unit and raided the spot only to find that 'Muriate of Potash' was being duplicated," explained Chandrashekar.

According to Metagalli Police, learning about the raid, the accused fled from the spot and action is being taken to arrest them.

Continuing, Chandrashekar said: "those involved in the racket were planning to sell spurious fertiliser at Kodagu, Sakleshpur in Hassan and several other districts. Three First Information Reports (FIRs) have already been filed against the accused involved in the racket. We have requested the City Police Commissioner to take suitable action against him."

What caused the BJP's downfall?

By Gouri Satya,
Sr. Journalist

Gouri Satya

The electrician, who came to my house on Sunday soon after the counting of votes of the Assembly elections on Saturday (May 13), was eager to express his opinion about the outcome of the polls, as the subject was still hot and fresh. Referring to the Congress' stunning victory, he remarked that their community voted in favour of the Congress. They had received directions from their religious leaders to back the Congress as, he said, the ruling party, which they trusted in the last four years, had let them down. Their defeat was their own creation (ಸ್ವಯಂಕೃತಾಪರಾಧ).

It was obvious from his remarks that there was discontent among Lingayats, as its prominent leaders including former Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa, who had played a crucial role in building up the party in the State, had been deprived of the Chief Ministership for the rest of the term and sidelined, while Jagadish Shettar and Laxman Savadi, two influential senior leaders of the community, had been denied tickets along with nearly 20 others.

This disillusionment among the Lingayats largely benefited the Congress in scoring a stunning victory at the hustings. Savadi, for example, won by a huge margin of over 76,000 votes, defeating BJP's Mahesh Kumathalli in Athani Assembly Constituency. Similarly, the saffron party was swept away in its stronghold of Lingayat belt in North Karnataka. The party which had 38 Lingayat legislators in 2018 could manage to win only 18 seats this time. On the other hand, as many as 34 Lingayats won on Congress tickets, while it was 26 in 2013 and 16 in 2018. The victory of so many Lingayat candidates gives credence to the remarks made by the electrician.

The results also reveal the consolidation of Muslim votes in favour of the Congress. Of the 15 candidates it had fielded, nine were elected. BJP had fielded none and no Muslim candidate fielded by the JD(S) was elected.

The BJP replaced many strong members of the party with as many as 70 new faces. The Gujarat experiment failed to benefit the party as could be seen from the results. It could have ensured the victory of some of its popular and senior candidates by retaining them in their Constituencies, but, on the other, pitted them against strong Congress leaders, like in the case of Minister V. Somanna, who was made to contest against former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah. Both Varuna and Chamarajanagar were outside Somanna's home turf, Govindarajanagar in Bengaluru.

In an Assembly election, voters assess the State Government's performance and elect candidates who are popular and easily accessible to them. In such a scenario, bringing outsiders to contest against the local candidates may fail to yield the desired result. This appears to be what happened in the case of the BJP. Voters were also disappointed over the lacklustre administration of Basavaraj Bommai. Bommai could barely match the two Congress strongmen, Siddharamaiah and D.K. Shivakumar. As a result, the leadership failed to effectively counter allegations like the 40% commission forcefully made out by the Congress during the campaign.

Besides allegations of widespread corruption, the BJP's reign was marred by a series of controversies like the hijab ban. Issues like communalism and inflation were other strong factors that cost the BJP dearly. Take the price of an LPG cylinder, it is as high as Rs. 1,100 today, which is too expensive for even a middle-class family. Similarly, the prices of most household items have become dear, turning the anger of the people against the ruling dispensation. No surprise, therefore, the five promises made to voters by Congress, by handing over a 'guarantee card' to every household in the State, caught the imagination of the people, in particular the poor.

These and other issues like relying chiefly on Prime Minister for the party campaign led the BJP Government to a disastrous end. Its scoreboard nosedived to less than half of the Congress' — 66 against 135.

Caretaker CM Bommai thanks babus for their co-operation

Bengaluru, May 17 (KMS&BS)- Caretaker Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has thanked the bureaucrats for their co-operation in taking firm decisions during his tenure in office.

Bommai informally spoke during a tea party hosted for the Officers at his home office Krishna here yesterday.

"We abide by the Constitution and both Legislative and Executive play key roles in administration. When I assumed office, we had to face COVID-19 pandemic and flood, but successfully handled those situations," said Basavaraj Bommai.

Bommai further said that "No violence was reported during our tenure and the elections also passed off without any untoward incidents. I congratulate Home Ministry for this. We have taken several firm decisions like hike in quota of reservation, challenges of Government employments, new policies related to employment and industries. The role of Officers in bringing out new policies and schemes was pivotal."

"We will be in power for five years, but you (Officers) will be in power for longer years. Let's all strive for the progress of the State. I may have sounded tough at times, but there was nothing personal," said Bommai.

DA case against D.K. Shivakumar: SC defers CBI plea to July 14

New Delhi, May 17 (Agencies)- The Supreme Court has adjourned the hearing on Central Bureau of Investigation's (CBI) plea challenging Karnataka High Court order granting interim stay on the probe into a Disproportionate Assets (DA) case filed against Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) President D. K. Shivakumar to July 14.

A bench of Justices B.R. Gavai and Sanjay Karol deferred the matter this afternoon, after hearing senior advocate Abhishek Singhvi, appearing for Shivakumar.

Singhvi brought to the notice of the Court 'the matter is coming up before Karnataka High Court on May 23.'

The Karnataka High Court on Feb. 10 had stayed CBI proceedings in a corruption case against Shivakumar, which was further extended later.

The Income Tax (IT) Department had in 2017 conducted a raid on Shivakumar, following which the Enforcement Directorate (ED) had launched a probe against the Congress leader.

Following the ED investigation, the CBI later sought sanction from the State Government to file an FIR against Shivakumar. The sanction was issued on Sept. 25, 2019 and the CBI had booked a case under the Prevention of Corruption Act on Oct. 3, 2020.

Shivakumar moved Karnataka High Court challenging the sanction and proceedings against him, alleging that 'the CBI was mounting mental pressure ahead of the Assembly elections by repeatedly serving notices on him, even though the case dates back to 2020.'

Ahead of Modi's US visit, Rahul to hold rally at Madison Square on June 4

Rahul Gandhi

New Delhi, May 17 (Agencies)- Congress leader Rahul Gandhi is set to visit the USA on May 31, sources said on Tuesday. According to the details, the Congress leaders will visit the country for a period of 10 days.

On June 4, Rahul Gandhi will hold a rally of about 5,000 NRIs in New York's Madison Square Garden, news agencies reported. Rahul Gandhi will also go to Washington and California for a panel discussion and speech at Stanford University. The Congress leader will also meet politicians and entrepreneurs.

Gandhi's visit to the States would be right before Prime Minister Narendra Modi's official state visit to the United States on June 22. US President Joe Biden and First Lady Jill Biden will host Modi for an Official State Visit to the United States, which will include a State dinner, on June 22, 2023, White House said.

Modi last visited the United States on September 23, 2021. In 2022, on the sidelines of the QUAD Leaders Summit, PM Modi and President Biden announced the India-US initiative of critical and emerging technology, known as iCET.

Rahul Gandhi dominated the headlines in March after he delivered speeches at Cambridge University in the United Kingdom, criticising the government.

A summer school at CIIL to save endangered languages

36 linguists attend two-week training on language documentation, revitalisation

Mysuru, May 17 (RK&BCT)- A two-week training programme on language documentation was inaugurated at the Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL) on Hunsur Road in the city this morning. Over 36 linguists from across India are attending the training programme.

Former Professor of Linguistics, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi Padma Shri Prof. Anvita Abbi inaugurated the programme in the presence of CIIL Director Prof. Shailendra Mohan, Deputy Director Prof. Umarani Pappuswamy and officer in-charge SPPEL (Scheme for Protection and Preservation of Endangered Languages), CIIL, and Programme Co-ordinator Dr. Sujoy Sarkar.

In her inaugural remarks, Prof. Anvita Abbi said that language documentation is a process during which documentary linguistics in general aims to record as much data and information as possible about how a given language community uses their language. It is also about making a record (video, audio, textual) on language usage in a wide variety of settings such as everyday conversation, ritual language and songs composed, or dances performed by language users.

How language saved lives

When the tsunami struck the shores of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands on Dec. 26, 2004, the Andamanese tribes were fishing by the sea. They all saved themselves while India lost more than 7,000 lives just in Andaman and Nicobar. Shouting slogans like 'the sea has turned upside down' 'the land has become water' they saved themselves. The indigenous knowledge locked in the indigenous language saved the communities. Such is the power of language as it connects everything, she said.

Former Professor of Linguistics, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, Padma Shri Prof. Anvita Abbi inaugurating the two-week training programme on language documentation at CIIL on Hunsur Road in city this morning as CIIL Director Prof. Shailendra Mohan, Deputy Director Prof. Umarani Pappuswamy and officer in-charge SPPEL, CIIL, and Programme Co-ordinator Dr. Sujoy Sarkar look on.

Language documentation is a fairly new field within linguistics and requires a more complex range of skills and knowledge than traditionally included in training programs in linguistics, she said.

"In addition to mastering recording techniques, language documentation involves data management, computer-assisted various programs to record and retrieve information, communications technologies, ethnography, skill of dealing with unwritten languages, and lately linguists had been promoting drawing the community into the act of documentation," Prof. Anvita Abbi added.

Revival of dying languages

Modern technologies have helped language elicitation, analysis, dissemination over a wide network, and archiving for permanency. Language documentation has been influenced and assisted by the development of powerful software tools that enable and support data manipulation and analysis.

The CIIL has taken upon itself a challenging task of documenting those languages that are considered endangered to sustain them and as well as to make it possible for their revival. The SPPEL team wants to draw youth of this country in this mammoth task as it is only, they who can help the CIIL achieve this goal, she added.

"Sincere documentation will give you a chance to investigate the past glory of a society, with its full energy and understanding of the world. After the whole exercise of documenting a language, you are a changed person, enhanced by rare knowledge of human survival and sustenance and sensitive to marginalised communities," Prof. Anvita Abbi said.

Social development

In his presidential remarks, Prof. Shailendra Mohan said that India has 22 scheduled languages and around 100 non-scheduled languages spoken by well over 1 billion people.

"There are 121 languages and 270 mother tongues that are spoken by more than 10,000 people. There are many languages which are spoken by less than 10,000 people," he noted.

"There is an urgent need to document, describe, prepare dictionaries, grammar and other teaching and learning resources for the development of these languages. It is often said to develop a language is to develop a society," he said.

Each mother tongue is a cognitive and cultural resource and we need to nurture linguistic diversity to nurture the society. "It is our personal, social and national responsibility and therefore we must develop these languages to unlock the highest potential of human beings. At CIIL, we believe that it is our responsibility as an institute to project a view that language is not a barrier but language is facilitator of developing the highest potential of human beings," Prof. Shailendra Mohan added.

Prof. Umarani Pappuswamy explained the nature of language documentation and said that the process involved language vitality assessment, endangered languages and grammar writing, dictionary-making and language revitalisation. "Training will be given on a variety of topics like grammar writing, dictionary making, documenting oral traditions, exploiting linguistic typological tools, use of technology etc., There are 18 resources persons covering a wide range of topics," she added.

Election to heads of MCC Standing Committees on May 25

Mysuru, May 17 (RK&DM)- After being postponed five times, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) is set to elect the Chairpersons of the four Standing Committees on May 25.

The polls to elect the Chairpersons of the MCC's four Standing Committees — Taxation; Finance and Appeals; Public Health, Education and Social Justice; City Planning, Reforms and Accounts — were supposed to be held last year after Shivakumar of the BJP was elected the Mayor on Sept. 6, 2022. But the polls for electing the Standing Committees Chairpersons did not take off even after notification was issued five times since Shivakumar took over as the Mayor, with the last postponement (5th one) being on Mar. 13, 2023 and the preceding one on Feb. 2. Congress then had staged dharna seeking polls for the election of heads of Standing Committees as it is an important post in the functioning of the MCC. Congress had also alleged that the BJP was intentionally delaying the polls though the members to all the four Standing Committees were appointed on Sept. 9, 2022.

Now the suspense over who will head the Standing Committees seems to have come to an end with the election scheduled to take place on May 25.

Meanwhile, Mayor Shivakumar said that the MCC's 2023-24 Budget would be presented within 15 days of the election of Chairpersons of the four Standing Committees.

Sandesh Swamy thanks NR voters

Tells Sait to concentrate on development works

Mysuru, May 17 (PM&TRR) - Defeated BJP candidate of NR Constituency Sandesh Swamy (S. Satish) has thanked his voters and congratulated his opponent Tanveer Sait, who has been re-elected by NR voters for the sixth time.

Speaking to the media at Pathrakartara Bhavan in city on Monday, he said that he will not move away from the Constituency after his defeat in the election.

Sandesh Swamy said that NR Constituency is his 'karma bhoomi' and he will continue to serve the people till his last breath. "I sincerely thank the voters for their support. Tanveer Sait should concentrate on the overall development of the Constituency without any discrimination," he added.

"I am ready to give necessary cooperation for the development of the Constituency. I have launched many development works as three-time Corporator of Gayathripuram ward and also as the Mayor of the city. So far I have contested Assembly elections three times in 2013, 2018 and 2023 and in each election I am polling more votes than the previous. In 2013, I got 30,000 votes, in 2018, I obtained 44,000 votes and in 2023 election, people have given me more than 52,000 votes. I am grateful for all the well-wishers, supporters and the voters and also thank the BJP leaders for giving me party ticket for second time," he said.

NR BJP President Dr. Bhanuprakash, former President S. Murali and General Secretary Swamygowda were present at the press meet.

Will not lose confidence but will continue with service activities: Ex-MLA Nagendra

Mysuru, May 17 (MTY&DM)- Maintaining that he would not lose heart over his defeat in the just concluded Assembly polls, former Chamaraja BJP MLA L. Nagendra said he will continue with his service activities.

Addressing a press meet here yesterday, Nagendra, who lost to K. Harishgowda of the Congress, said he had secured more number of votes as compared to the 2018 polls. Wondering which way the votes of JD(S), which came a close third in the 2018 Assembly polls, swung, he said that the five poll guarantees of the Congress might have helped it.

Noting that the poor performance of the JD(S) had an impact on the results, he appealed the BJP workers not to lose heart and continue their work for strengthening the party.

Replying to a question on whether he was in the race for the LS polls ticket from Mysuru, Nagendra said the question does not arise as Pratap Simha is already the MP.

Stating that the 40 percent commission charge made by the Congress against the BJP could not be proved, he reiterated that the poll guarantees announced by the Congress ahead of the polls, has helped the Congress in a big way. The Congress must act on its promises, he said adding that the people will revolt against the Congress if it fails to fulfil its poll freebies. He also urged the new Government to complete all the works and projects that were taken up when he was the MLA.

Corporator Ravindra, BJP leaders Satish, Vedavathi, Somashekar Raju and S.K.Dinesh were present at the press meet.

Ramanath Rai

Mangaluru, May 17- Former Congress Minister B. Ramanath Rai, who lost from Bantval Constituency as the Congress candidate in the just held Assembly polls, has announced retirement from active politics.

He however said that he would continue to work for the Congress party.

Raghu Kautilya resigns as MPVL Chairman

Mysuru, May 17 (PM&DM)- Mysore Paints and Varnish Limited (MPVL) Chairman R. Raghu Kautilya quit his post on Tuesday following the defeat of the BJP Government in the recent polls.

Raghu, who was appointed as MPVL Chairman last year (June 29, 2022) by the Basavaraj Bommai led BJP Government, submitted his resignation letter to the State Chief Secretary yesterday.

Y.S.V. Datta to take out 'Prayaschitha Padayatra' from June 24

Y.S.V. Datta

Chikkamagalur, May 17- Former Kadur JD(S) MLA Y.S.V. Datta, who was defeated from Kadur Constituency of Chikkamagalur district, has decided to take out 'Prayaschitha Padayatra' (a march of repentance) commencing on June 24, marking his 70th birthday.

Datta, who had quit JD(S) months ago to join the Congress in the hope of getting the Congress ticket from Kadur, was dejected when the party denied him the ticket last month. Subsequently he returned to his parent party JD(S) and contested the polls once again from Kadur in the just held Assembly polls, which he however lost.

In an appeal to the voters of Kadur on Tuesday, Datta, who was elected from Kadur on a JD(S) ticket in the 2013 Assembly polls, said he had been with the people of Kadur for the last 17 years and was ever indebted to the love and support they extended to him.

He also clarified that his padayatra had nothing to do with any future election.

In the meantime, he held a meeting with his supporters at Kadur in the presence of Hassan MP Prajwal Revanna. He expressed his disappointment over Datta's decision to quit electoral politics and insisted that he should not take such a decision as victory and loss is common in politics.

For country's good, Science needs better funding: Prof. K.S. Rangappa

Mysuru, May 17 (MK&BS)- Former Vice-Chancellor (VC) of University of Mysore (UoM) Prof. K.S. Rangappa has said that "Science is not a small subject as every country is largely dependent on Science. It exists in the blood of every living being."

He was speaking at the one-day programme 'G20 University Connect: Engaging Young Minds' hosted by the Ministry of External Affairs, New Delhi, Research and Information System For Developing Countries (RIS), New Delhi and National Institute of Advanced Studies (NIAS), Bengaluru in collaboration with Department of International Relations, Maharaja's College, University of Mysore (UoM), at Vijnana Bhavan auditorium in Manasagangothri here on Monday (May 15).

Prof. Rangappa, who is also the Emeritus Scientist of Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR) and Ambassador of Hokkaido University, Japan, said that "A country can progress with Science-based researches. But the funds allotted for research activities in India is meagre. Hence, the scientists and experts are looking towards other countries. If we can't achieve progress in the field of Science, we can't achieve maturity in other fields. The conducive environment for research must be created at our own country and the researchers should be provided required facilities."

Dr. Seshadri Chari, Member of Governing Council, RIS, asserted that "We should view the whole world as a family, not market. Even if one among the family members is in pain, it is like the whole world is in pain. Hence we should strive for the welfare of the family (world) and wish a happy living for all on the lines of Sarve Bhavantu Sukhinah Sarve Santu Niramaya (May everyone be happy)."

Dr. N. Krishna Prasad, Managing Director, Nature Bell Wellness, Mysuru, said "Ayurveda is the root of medicine of India. It is beneficial for health and will teach about practicing a healthy life. If we see TV or cellphone while having food, we can't focus on food. It will also seriously affect the brain."

A session titled 'Young Scholars Round Table on G20' was also held on the occasion, followed by talks on various topics like 'Space Technology and Governance: Agenda for G20' by Harini Madhusudan, Ph.D scholar, NIAS; 'Climate Action: Agenda for G20' by Akriti Sharma, Ph.D Scholar, NIAS; 'Maritime Governance: Agenda for G20' by Padma Shri Anandan, Research Associate, NIAS; 'Addressing Maritime Plastic: What G20 can do?' by K. WORD OF THE DAY

Satiate

Pronunciation: SAY-shee-ayt.
Meaning: Satiate is a formal word that means "to satisfy (something, such as a need or desire) fully."
Origin: The time has come at last to share the "sad" history of satiate, by which we mean that the two words—sad and satiate—are etymologically connected, not that the details will have you reaching for the tissue box. Both satiate and sad are related to the Latin adjective satis, meaning "enough." When we say our desire, thirst, curiosity, etc. has been satiated, we mean it has been fully satisfied (satisfy being another satis descendant)—in other words, we've had enough. Satiate and sate (believed to be an alteration and shortening of satiate) sometimes imply simple contentment, but often suggest that having enough has dulled interest or desire for more, as in "Years of globe-trotting satiated their interest in travel." Sad, which in its earliest use could describe someone who was weary or tired of something, traces back to the Old English adjective sæd, meaning "sated," and sæd shares an ancient root with Latin satis.

THE ODD WORD

Saprodontia

Tooth decay.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

As safe as houses

Meaning: Completely safe and secure.
Origin: It is commonly accepted that the Victorian expression 'As safe as houses' means 'secure; with no risk of failure'. It shares that meaning with 'As safe as the Bank of England' - the origin of this latter phrase slightly pre-dating the 'houses' version, being known in print from at least 1818. The first example of 'As safe as houses' in print is in the rather over the top melodrama Timour the Tartar, which was staged in London in various versions from around 1842 onwards. The 1850 version contains this strangled doggerel:
Come, sacrifice your son and do what's right.
No - I don't seem to see it in that light.
Well then, I'll give my word that Timour's life
Shall be safe as houses. For a wife
Whom Timour's sword made widow lone and sad,
I think my offer by no means bad. It has been speculated, in fact it is widely believed, that 'As safe as houses' referred to the relative security of investing in housing as compared to risky railway shares, which had recently bankrupted many people in the Railway Mania bubble of the 1840s.
